CELEBRATING A MILESTONE...

Friends,

Milestones mark where we have been and give us opportunity to reflect on where we are going. They help us measure progress and strengthen our resolve. They remind us that our efforts are not in vain.

This month marks just one such milestone: the one year anniversary of the launching of Justice For Youth. HAPPY BIRTHDAY JFY!

As we look back over the past 12 months, here are just a few progress reports that should encourage us all...

- ✓ In the city of Orhei, Moldova, we participated in a city wide anti-trafficking campaign that reached over 11,000 young people. Read more HERE
- ✓ The official launch of our poster & seminar program in

Moldova, focused on reaching at risk young people in the schools. Read more HERE

- ✓ The launching of three websites:

Mother site—HERE

Advocacy site—HERE

Mission team site—HERE

- ✓ The launching of our Car Donation Program. Read more HERE

- ✓ As well as our Starion Energy Program. Read more HERE

- ✓ We have established a wide network of relationships which include the Benedictine Schools in the United States, a Plant A Pre-school program in the former Soviet Union, a student body (and dedicated teacher) in Thailand, a mission worker in China, and an organization that reaches at risk youth and families in Western Africa.

- ✓ We are conducting two JFY field trips this summer: Australia and London!

Finally, just a few days ago we received an email that was icing on our birthday cake from Sharon Robertson, a school teacher in Thailand. Her email is Below.

Yours For This Generation,

Justice

EMAIL: A PLATOON OF YOUNG ABOLITIONISTS STAND TALL FOR JFY...

"Dear JFY, We have so far organised 4 fund raising events with hopefully more to follow between now and July. We have a sponsored swim, a charity car and motorbike wash, a school fair and a sponsored no uniform day. We are a small school in Koh Samui so are planning several events in order to maximise the amount of money we raise.

I plan to download some of your posters to display around school...I am in the process of contacting the island's 2 English language newspapers to advertise our events and would like to mention Justice for Youth in any articles/interviews we have. Would this be acceptable to your organization? I also would like to point out that I found out about your organisation through the CNN Freedom Project.

Our first event, the sponsored swim, will be held on 16th March. I will send you photographs and any further information I have following the event.

My students are really fired up about these ideas so I look forward to very positive support from parents and businesses around the island.

Kind regards,
Sharon Robertson,
Panyadee, The British School of Samui,
Koh Samui,

OUR MISSION

JFY exists to bring hope to children and youth around the world victimized by human trafficking, poverty, homelessness, HIV/AIDS or other life threatening diseases.

I have a dream...

"I would love to see modern day slavery reduced to a low percentage in Eastern Europe with strict laws enforced for offenders. I would also like to see this campaign be so in the forefront of society that it becomes no longer a secret and ill-informed social evil. Of course, I would also like to see hope for orphaned children through quality homes, new families and innovative education that prepares them not just for life but for success in life!

I would like to see a lot of things and I do believe that millions of children and youth will be influenced by our projects— but I would also do all of this for just one child if I knew we could save that child from the horror of trafficking, a life-long battle with HIV/AIDS, a homeless childhood or the damaging effects of poverty!"
